Declaration of War Between Russia and England Seemingly a Question of Hours Only.

Royalty Enthusiastically Received at Londonderry - France Making a Great Fues With Egypt.

ANGLO-BUSSIAN PROSPECTS.

The War Clouds Growing Barker and Darker-A Declaration May be Made Almost Any Day.

Lospon, April 23 .- The Emperor of Russia passed four hours yesterday with General Obrutsches, Chief of Staff, and several engineer officers, studying war maps of the Afghan frontier. Genera! Obrutacheff regards war as inevitable, urges immediate mobilization, and that not a moment should be lost in pushing on to Herat and Candahar. General Obrutscheff's increasing influence over the Czar is believed here to be very significant. Obrutscheff is a man of the Skebeleif type. He is only forty two years old, and full of energy and ambition. He said to the Czar: "Now is the moment, sire, for Russia to strike. Lumsden's retreat has utterly destroyed England's prestige among the Afghans, who, I can assure your Majesty, are ready to revolt against the Ameer. Besides, Persia is prepared secretly to nelp us, and to do so the moment we strike the first blow. All these advantages will be lost by delay."

The Czar replied: "You are too hasty, General. Russia's manifest destiny is too strong to be wrecked by any numan agency, but I still hope war may be avoided. But come what will, I never shall consent to give up Penjdeh nor the Zulfikar Dates."

The above conversation took place in the Winter Palace in the room near the famous Nikolas Hall, which is now filled with small tables upon which are piled hundreds of maps, plans and railway schemes about Central Asia. The Czar is convinced that the improvised cruisers of the Alabama type and the vigorous application of torpedo warfare will transfer England's monopoly of the carrying trade to other nations. Was preparations in Moscow are being hastened on with the greatest activity. Large bodies of troops are daily leaving for the South. Heavy supplies of artillery and commissariat stores are being sent to Toganrog for transportation to Ba-toum and other fortified places on the Black ces. Cossacks of the Don. Koban and Terek, altogether over 80,000 men, have received orders to hold themselves ready to move at a moment's notice. Thirty-five thousand troops have already been concentrated near Askabad. In Moscow war is eggerly hoped for. General Gourko, the Governor General of Po-land, has been ordered by the Czar to prepare immediately a debarred memoir giving a plan of campaign in Alghanistan. It is believed here that Heneral Gourke, in the event of war, will be placed in supreme command of the armies operating against India. There are now 70,000 Russian troops in Poland. Of these, 30,000 are under orders for immediate movement to Odessa. This proves that Russia has no cause to fear any hostility from Austria. The feeling among the Poles is one of utter indifference. War or no war, they are too weng to dream of revolt, and the Russian garrison can be safely reduced to 40,000 men Dispatches from St. Petersburg, received here this afternoon, state that the Czar has issued an imperial ukase sanctioning the raising of a large force of Turkomans militia by General Komaroff. Workmen are busy night and day loading all the whitehead torpedoes in the arsenal. Orders have been given that the moment hostilities besin stationary torpedoes shall be placed outside all Russian ports on the Baltic. The iron clads Admiral Greig, Duc d'Edinburg and Kremlen, and the monitors Typhon, Satnik and Bronenos-sets have already completed their armaments and are ready for immediate action.

A dispatch to the Times from Tirpui, dated April 21. says: The excitement of the people of Afghan-istan over the Penjdeh affair is subsiding, but that all are looking auxiously for a sign of determined British policy. Previous to the present fine weather postal communication with India overland had been stopped for weeks, owing to heavy floods. The Russians are compelling the sarahas, of Penjdeh, who are friendly to the British, to construct military roads.

A St Petersburg special dispatch to the Standard says that negotiations continue between the Russisn and British governments. The frontier ques-tion presents no serious difficulty, but the Penjdeh affair detains the meeting of the Boundary Commission, headed by M. Lessar, for Russia, and Sir Peter Lumsden, for Great Britain. Russia, says the dispactch, is willing to cede the Zulficar pass in return for Penjadeh. That accomplished, the Boundary Commission could probably arrange for a withdrawal of both Russian and Afgan troops from the disputed scene. This solution of the existing difficulty, it is asserted, however, is only possible if England foregoes her claims for satisfaction from Russia for the Penjdeh incident. Satisfaction, continues the dispatch, Russia will not give.

It is rumored that several British men-of-war have appeared at Vladivostock. The river Neva is cleared of ice. The harbor of Kronstadt, however, remains ice-bound. All Russian newspapers assume that England bas demanded satisfaction from Russia for the Penjdeh affair.

A Bombay dispatch says the Duke of Connaught, who had started home, has been suddenly recalled to Simla. This was due to the receipt of a telegram from England indicating that the political started in the same of the same Ical outlook was extremely critical. The Earl of Dufferin, Viceroy of India, has held a prolonged military council. It is believed at this council it was resolved to concentrate an Indian force at Quetta immediately.

A general increase in regimental officers in the Russian army has been ordered.

British transports at Woolwich have been or-dered to load, until otherwise instructed, all their war stores for India instead of Suakim. The government has ordered the immediate construction of forty gunboats. These new gunboats are to be, according to the Admiralty specifications, of a new type of naval architecture. They will carry light shell guns for the purpose of destroying torpedo boats, and will have a coal stowage capacity which will render them capable of steaming 1,000 miles without recoaling. In addition to the charter of the steamers already announced, the gov-ernment has also chartered the steamer Energia. The Energia will be converted into an armed

Madrid, April 25.-A Rusian corvette anchored in the Port of Almeria, on the Mediterraneau, in Spain, last evening, and her commander hurriedly went ashore and hunted up the Russian consulafter a brief conference the commander nastone back to his ship, which at once lifted anchor and proceeded to sea with her lamps unlit. It was asteriained, too, that the commander of the corveit put lato Almeria for the purpose of ascertaining whether the purpose of ascertaining which whether the purpose of ascertaining whether ing whether or not war had yet been declared between Russia and Encland. He said he had run across a British man-of-war, whose conduct was so suspicious as to induce him to stop and ascertain what the situation was and what line of action on his part it would warrant.

It is reported that Count Kalnoky, the Austro-Hungarian Minister of Foreign Affairs, nas expressed the gravest fears that war will be the issue of the strained relations existing between Great Britian and Russia. Austrian newspapers are of the opinion that England is certain to obtain the corclusion of an alliance with Turkey in the event of war with Russia.

It is a ated that the Czar started at once for Moscow to consult with the ministry regarding the Anglo Ru s'an question. The War Office has issued orders for a large increase in the number of subaltern officers of the army.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

The Prince and Princess of Wales Enthustastically Received in Londonderry.

LONDONDERRY, April 25.-The Prince and Princess of Wales had a most enthusiastic reception here to-day. The town was literally covered with flags and bunting. Immense crowds were in the streets through which the royal party and the procession passed. Excited Over the Adverse Vote.

LONDON, April 25 .- There was much excitement in the House over the Government's defeat. Before the division Mr. Gladstone stated that the Government reserved freedom of action if the amendment carried. The adoption entails a charge of £130,000 yearly on the consolidated fund, with a similar relief to the local taxes. It is believed the Government will decide to go on with the bill and endeavor to reverse the vote in the report stage with a fuller House. The Government in the meantime, it is thought, will proceed with the English and Scotch bills and test the same question.

Definite Arrangements,

ROME, April 25.-The Gazette of this morning announces that Signa Mancini, Italian Minister for Foreign Affairs, and Sir Saville Lumley, British Embassador, have made a definite arrangement regarding the military and political action of Italy on the Redisea. Foreign Notes.

yesterday afternoon. It was understood the Aighan situation has not been improved. By official decree the Austrian Reichsrath has been dissolved. The general election for Daputies is expected to take place in June next. It is reported that the troops belonging to El Mahdi's army at Abdurman are wavering in their loyalty to the Prophet, in consequence of his recent military reverses. A Paris special to the Exchange Telegraph Company states that the French foreign office has received an intimation that Russia will not accept any terms of foreign mediation, even if offered." It is appounced that the French Government is about to undertake the prosecution of the action of the Public Debt Commissioner against the Egyptian Government for the suspension of the sinking fand.

The Egyptian Government has tendered no offers of compromise to the French Government; on the contrary, the Egyptian Ministry are firm and believe their action in suppressing the French newspap is fully justified. Nevertheless, it is hoped that an amicable settlement may be arrived at.

CENTRAL AMERICA.

Matters Relating to the Union Decree of Barrios, and Saldiva's Detection From the Scheme,

New ORLEANS, April 25,-The Times-Democrat has a letter from San Pedro, Tula, Houduras, dated April 16, containing the following: "A Honduran officer, who was on a mission to the Guatemalan headquarters when Barrios fell, has given your correspondent the following information: When President Barrios issued his famous union decree of February 28, he was certain of the alliance of Salvador and Honduras. His dear friend, Saldiva, of Salvador, menaced General Bozran, of Honduras, and against his own will the latter was compelled to adhere to the decree. When Berrios is ned this decree, on the 28th of February, Saldiva, of Salvador, sent him a dispatch which stated his full and complete concurrence in the decree, and congratulated him on the certainty of the speedy realization of his patriotic aspirations. It is possible that up to that moment saldiva tried to be sincere, but he soon discovered that the wealthier portion of his fellow citizens were bitter against the Union movement. He then began to think about retracing his steps, and prepared for war. He enlisted the sympathies of Mexico, and entered into an alliance with Nicaragua and Costa kica. Mean while he burdened the wires with friendly messages to Barrios, and that chieftain, confiding in the integrity and honor of his life-long friend quietly awaited information as to how his decree was received by the outside world, and by Nicaragua and Costa Rica. As far as the two latter powers were concerned, he was soon undeceived. They indignantly refused to concur in his movement, and declared war against Guatemala. Then the slumbering lion was aroused, and Barrios ordered the march of his forces to the frontier of Salvador; but up to the 9th of March he still conided in Saldiva. While preparing to join his forces, Barrios received the famous menacing telegram from the Mexican President. He read it carefully two or three times. Those who were with him noticed that he seemed bewildered, for he passed his hand over his eyes several times, as though he distrusted his very eyesight. He then crushed the telegram into his vest packet and wrote a dispatch, which was immediately sent to Saldiva. While waiting for an answer from the latter he walked rapidly up and down the room, while his officers and ministers stood respectfully by, but none dared to address him. At last Saldivas answer came. It breathed defiance and natred. Barrios held the dispatch a moment in his hand, then threw it on the floor, stamped upon it, and said: Gentleman. Saidivas has played the traitor. He has entered into an alliance with Mexico, Nicaragua and Costa Rica. His defection has complicated the problem. I must have time to deliberate with myself what to do; please leave me for a few minutes. The officers and ministers left him, and he remained for two hours closeted with Barreaidia, the Minister of War. From that moment it is probable that even the Union movement was a secondary consideration with him, while vengeance on Saldiva became the ruling sent ment of his heart. The Times-Democrat correspondent narrates the death of Barrios as having occurred while the latter, at the head of a column, was charging his enemy's entrenchments. CHICAGO SPECULATIVE MARKETS.

They Have Been Unsettled and Feverish ... The Wheat Crowd Conservative ... Corn

Manipulators the Life of the Market. Special to the Sentinel.

CHICAGO, April 25. - The speculative markets, on 'Change, have never been more unsettled and feverish than during the past week. At the same time, business has not been large in any article, except corn, and manipulation has furnished the life in that pit. Heavy dealers, who usually make things active in the wheat crowd, have been rendered eminently conservative by conflicting re-ports and the wide difference in the dispatches from the other side, together with the large numtal'ons of loyalty to Her Most Gracious Majesty, | ber of manufactured cablegrams which the New | steadily subsiding.

Yorkers have made use of to scalp their Chicago brethren. If there is war, the price will certainly advance, and if not down it will go, and in the present state of uncertainty they prefer to await developments rather than run the risk of getting caught. The visible supply showed another decrease of something over 1,100,000 bushels this week which gave the bulls considerable encouragement, but some bright genius at once discovered that at o'clock this evening. It is belived there that | that rate the wheat on hand would last nearly a year. This caused many to taink that the diminution was not such an item after all, and since then the market has been entirely a waiting one with a few scalping transactions going on all the while to keep trade from coming to a complete standstill. Crop solvices are rather more favora-ble, as would naturally be the case, considering the bright spring weather and warm showers. At Atlantic ports the export demand shows little improvement, but the outward movement from the Pacific slope has increased largely. The market is certainly a hard one to predict the future of, and very few venture an opinion. The country is loaded up with all it can possibly carry, and no support is to be expected from that source. They have purchased partly perhaps on belief in war, but mostly on crop injury and the home situation. The sharp reaction from the long strain, which would be sure to follow a declaration of peace, would bring all these thousand little parcels of grain on the market in a flood The countryman years ago margined up in good shape and stood by his deals, but now he stakes only what he is obliged to in order to gain a foot-hold in the market, and never gets out until he has a big profit or is frozen out, usually the latter. The sentiment of the crowd, too, has undergone another change, and all the small fry are now bears. They have watched and bought so often on war rumors during the past few weeks, and these have failed so utterly to materialize that they have lost all faith in John Buil's quarrel with the Russian bear, and nothing but actual blood will convert them.

In the meantime the market acts tired. It needs the stimulus of new blood badly. The country is bullish on crop prospects, but prices have been so long bolstered up on the idea of war that if it is withdrawn no other prop can be substituted until the boys have had time to think it over. Hence, in the event of peace there is likely to be a good-sized break before any material advance. Even the biggest bulls acknowledge this, and are advising their friends to purchase on such a turn. Until there is something developed, the policy is to keep books balanced and wait.

Is there a corner in May corn? if he question the followers of that cereal woul like to have solved. At the start everybody v certain there was and bought accordingly. The all of a sudden Lester turned and sold the market down a point or two. Some said this was to shake out tailers and get a better hold, while others declared it was simply the closing out of a good-sized scalp.

The former seemed to be the correct view. A little later Baxter and Lester both appeared and offered to buy all the corn on earth. Now, to make the situation more interesting, the rate war on rathroads centering on the Missouri River in Ne-braska have started an immense line of corn for this market at very low rates.

Provisions are dull and without feature. Receipts of hogs are large, and in spite of fair shipments stacks of product keep piling up. Speculativa trade is entirely tacking in vim.
